To the PRINTER,

SIR, New-York, Sept. 19, 1767.
I have before sent you several occasional remarks on the articles of news that have appeared in the public papers, which I have had the satisfaction to find, you published according to my desire. I inclose you herewith something of the same kind, to which if you will give a place in your next paper, you will further oblige a loyal subject to his majesty King GEORGE the III, a sincere and hearty friend to the whole British nation throughout all its dominions, and to the just rights of every individual in it. G.

To the People of Boston and all other English Americans.

My BRETHREN,
IN looking over one of the late Boston papers, (the Boston Evening Post of Sept. 7,) I was concerned to find two or three pieces, that have, in my opinion, a tendency to deceive the people, and throw cold water upon their generous ardour in support of their just rights.—The first I take to be a very artful contrivance of a secret enemy: It is some observation upon, and extracts from a Sermon, preached above an hundred years ago, by one Mr. Oakes, who it seems was a minister of high reputation in his day, amongst your pious forefathers; and consequently their posterity, at this time, are supposed to have a more than impartial veneration and regard for the doctrines he taught them, and left behind him in his works. I am far from saying any thing against the doctrines contained in the extracts,—on the contrary I approve them, and think them just and good;—and I have no doubt, but they were pertinent to the circumstances of the times in which they were delivered.—But the design and application of them by this transcriber, is what I disapprove, and suppose to be entirely different from the intention of the pious author. This transcriber, seems to take it for granted, that the fears and jealousies of the people, that their rights and liberties are in danger, are unreasonable;—that the reports and suspicions spread among you, that some of your own false brethren and men in power, have acted the part of secret enemies, and are seeking to betray you into slavery, are false, unreasonable and groundless,—abusive calumnies and ill-usage of persons of great worth, use, and interest among you. That these suspected persons are some of the best men you have,—pious, faithful magistrates, ministers, &c. All this, the transcriber takes for granted,—nay he even compares those suspected persons, to Moses and Aaron, and those who suspect and oppose them to Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. If this is not his design, to what purpose has he published the extracts? If it is his design, he ought to have shewn the cases to be similar, before he made the application. If there is no just cause for the fears and jealousies that our rights and liberties are in danger; and if the men we suspect have really acted the parts of pious faithful ministers and magistrates, and have given no just cause for those suspicions that have arisen against them, then the extracts may be applied with propriety: But on the contrary, if it evidently appears, that there is abundant cause for all those fears, jealousies and suspicions, then those extracts are at this time not only impertinent, but are manifestly inserted for an evil purpose, by a secret enemy, who is probably one of the very persons suspected.

Is there any thing that ought to be more sacred to an Englishman, than the constitution of his country? Are there any things more plainly expressed or more sacred in that constitution, than the following rights, viz.? The right of trials by juries of our peers (that is, men in circumstances equal and similar to our own) indifferently chosen. The right of freely using and disposing of our own property, either by ourselves in person, or by representatives freely chosen by ourselves for that purpose, and by no other persons whatsoever; and of being bound by no human laws but such as we have assented to in like manner?—Have not these most sacred rights been most manifestly violated, in the attempts to impose upon us the stamp-act and other oppressive acts, to which we never consented, either by ourselves or representatives, and which were passed in assemblies where we never had or can have a representative;—composed of men equally strangers to our persons, and circumstances, and of interests quite opposite to ours?

If our rights in those high instances are denied us, have we any thing that we can call our own? and can there be a more perfect slavery? After this, can it be said, that our liberties are not in danger? And have not many of our own people used their utmost endeavours to enforce those oppressive acts? Have they not artfully improved every occasion to lull you into security and inactivity, to soothe and cajole you with hopes, and alarm you with fears? Have they not been so very ingenious in discovering, and warm in urging every argument and pretence that could be devised in favour of the unconstitutional stamp-act, &c. that the very authors and contrivers themselves have adopted in England the arguments for enforcing, and against repealing the stamp-act, that were suggested to them and used in America, by those very men whom this transcriber would represent as pious faithful magistrates and ministers; the best men you have among you, even such as Moses and Aaron! Be not deceived, my brethren, by the cunning devices of these lurking enemies, who under the mask of piety and friendship would lure you into slavery. Have not the actions of these men justly exposed them to those reports, suspicions and jealousies that have been propagated to their disadvantage?—Let every reasonable man judge.

My Brethren, let us not be deceived nor divided—All the Colonies, every man in England,—in the British dominions, who values his freedom, have all one common interest,—our security depends upon our union.

Have we not the greatest reason to think, that it is not from kindness to any of the other colonies, that they are seemingly used with more lenity than New-York, but purely to divide them? If one colony is once enslaved, none of the rest, nor England itself, will long remain free!—The most grace that the most favoured must expect to find, will be such as Polyphemus promised Ulysses, to be devoured last.

It has been found by experience, in all ages, that in proportion as a people are free, they become virtuous, learned, polite, brave, powerful and happy; and the contrary to all these as they approach toward slavery. By freedom, I do not mean an unrestrained licentiousness,—every thing of that kind, is an encroachment upon freedom, a species of slavery and tyranny—I mean, a reasonable freedom, bounded by the equal rights of others, and social relations. The law of nature is the law of God, irreversible itself, and superceding all human laws. It is that order and constitution of things which God has established in their respective natures, and which perfectly reconciles the true interest and happiness of every individual, with the true interest and happiness of the universal whole. The laws and constitution of the English government, are the best we know of in the world, because they approach the nearest to the laws God has established in our natures. They contain in them, the grand fundamental principles of that divine law—particularly, they establish our freedom in the undisturbed use, and sole disposal of our own property; in being tried only by our peers, and governed by no human laws but those to which we have given our assent, either in person, or by representatives freely chosen by ourselves for that purpose, which laws, we can alter, amend or abrogate whenever we find them inconvenient,—always making the divine laws the criterion of all those we frame for ourselves. These few particulars, which are contrived to secure our freedom in the strongest manner, are the most valuable parts of the English constitution.

To these it is principally owing, that England emerged from a state of ignorance and barbarism, to such a pitch of grandeur in arts and arms, riches and power,—became a place of refuge for the oppressed,—the desire of all nations—the dread and envy of tyrants. These principles of freedom in the English constitution, are the sole cause of all these glorious effects.—Take away these, and you remove the very foundations of England's strength, glory and happiness; it will sink with rapidity, from that grandeur to which it was raised by slow degrees, till it is no more distinguished among the nations, but lost in the vulgar herd of petty tyrants and slaves that infest and almost over spread the globe. And shall those men who exert themselves in defence of their native rights, and the beloved the glorious constitution of England, be treated as factious disturbers of the public peace, and branded with the opprobrious names of rebels and traitors? Forbid it justice! Forbid it, oh guardian of Britain and the rights of mankind!—No, Let those who have attempted this barbarous violation of the most sacred rights of their country, apply those hateful epithets to themselves. Let their consciences determine whether they do not deserve the names of rebels and traitors, not only against the laws of their country and their King, but against Heaven itself, and that God who has established the laws of nature.

L O N D O N, July 21.

The Earl of Chatham is so enfeebled by his present illness, that his Lordship has been obliged to be carried, for the benefit of the air, between two hours on a litter.

It is said the Earl of Chatham will shortly set out for the South of France, for the recovery of his health.

It is said that the Marquis of Rockingham is to be at the head of the Treasury.

We are told his Grace the Duke of Newcastle is to have some considerable employment. And yesterday many of those who are to compose the new Ministry dined with his Grace at Claremont.

The island of Tercera, the largest but one of the Azores, it is said, is to be ceded to Britain, in some satisfaction for the late aids furnished to Portugal. This island can boast of a spil fit for the production of corn, cattle, and poultry; but its wine is vile and despisable. It has a good harbour, and lies in the Atlantic ocean, about half way between Europe and America.

By a gentleman just come from Lisbon we are informed, that the English merchants there are obliged, for want of business, to dismiss their clerks; that they expected money by the last fleet from the Brazils, but have got none; that they cannot get in their Portuguese debts; and that ruin stares them in the face, whether they stay or go.

It is said that the decree given in Scotland, in favour of the Hamilton family, is not final; and that an appeal will be made next Sessions to the Right Hon. House of Peers for a rehearing.

Yesterday the Right Hon. Lord Holland waited on his Majesty at St. James's.

The changes in the Administration expected for some time past, and which were, it was generally supposed, to have been settled, yesterday in the cabinet council, at St. James's, have not yet taken place. It has been currently reported, that a plan formed by their Graces of Bedford and Newcastle, the Marquis of Rockingham, and the Hon. Mr. George Grenville was yesterday laid before a great Personage, in which, of the above number, only the Marquis was at the levee yesterday; and Duke of Newcastle came to town about noon.

Earl T---- refused to join the late intended coalition, as being hasty, crude, undigested, and impermanent.

It is said, that the important Post of Lord High Treasurer of England, will soon be revived in the Person of his Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Yesterday the Princess Poniatowski was introduced to their Majesties, at the Queen's Palace.

Prince Poniatowski, own Brother to the King of Poland, and Confort to the Prince of that Name, who is now in England, is expected here next Month.

These are the Heads talked of as settled by the present confederated great interests, viz.

Duke of Bedford, Lord President.

Duke of Portland, Lord Chamberlain.

Duke of Marlborough, Master of the Horse.

Marquis of Rockingham, First Lord of the Treasury.

Earl of Hildborough, Bedfborough, and Shelburn, Vice Treasurers of Ireland.

Lord Paulet, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Lord Halifax, First Lord of Trade.

Lord Egmont, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Mr. Grenville, Chancellor of Exchequer.

Mr. Townsend, Pay Master.

The Gold and Silver Lace Business in Ireland has received an irreparable Injury, as well as the worst Lace Branch, on Account of a late Order to prohibit the Wear of those Manufactures in the Army.

They write from Leghorn, that the Senate of Genoa has offered the Sum of two Millions of French Livres, to General Paoli, for Re-delivery of Capraia, which was refused.

From the Marquis of Rockingham's setting out for his Seat in Yorkshire, and several other of Nobility for their respective Seats, 'tis generally supposed no Changes will take Place during the Summer Months.

An eminent Cornfactor has sent over Commissions for thirty thousand Quarters of Corn to be imported, in different Bottoms, from New-York, Maryland, New-England, and Pennsylvania.

It is said Orders have been sent over to Holland and Germany to postpone the farther engaging Protestant Palatines for the new Settlements in America.

This Morning a Messenger was dispatched to his Excellency the Earl of Rochfort, Ambassador at the Court of France.

Edinburgh, July 20. The Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of this City, have offered a Reward of 200l. Sterling to any Person, or Persons, who shall discover the Author, or Authors, of certain incendiary Letters sent some Days ago to the Right Hon. the Lord President of the Court of Sessions, threatening to murder his Lordship, and burn his House in Town and Country, for the Judgment given by him in a Cause lately depending before that Court, Warsaw, July 1. Prince Radzivil has been elected Marshall of the General Confederacy of Radon, after some pretty sharp Debates, in which it is assured some Blood has been spilt.

PHILADELPHIA, September 21.

A few Days ago, a Man who called himself Vandyke, hired of Mr. Holliday, at Duck-Creek, a pink-stern'd Schooner (about a Year old, and will carry about 1500 Bushels) in order, as he pretended, to carry a Load of Goods from Indian River to the Creek, he found Means to get Mr. Holliday ashore, and then proceeded, with two Men he had hired, down the Bay—One of the Men being some Villany, plead he was sick, and prevailed on his Employer to put him on board a Pilot Boat; and he is since come up to this City. Vandyke went immediately to Sea, and it is supposed he intends for some Part of N. Carolina.

Saturday last a Man, Name unknown, fell into the River from the Side of a Vessel near Chestnut Street Wharf, and was drowned.

Capt. Pierce, from Barbados, informs us, that on his ward-bound Passage, on the 15th of June, in Lat. 41° 4' Long. 60° 22' he saw a Vessel lying on her Broadside, which upon sending a Boat to, he found to be a new Schooner, with a clean white Brimstone Bottom, and a red painted Steak between the black Steak and Gunnel—her Masts, Bow-sprit, and a Piece of her Main-top-mast standing, with all the Rigging; but no Booms, Sails, Anchors, or Boat could be seen. Her Hatchets were all fast, and seem'd to have an Iron Bar over them, and her Quarter Deck was mostly under Water—The Sea ran so high, that no further Discoveries could be made.

Saturday last Captain Powell, in the Ship Lovely Luis, arrived here from Jamaica—He brought in with him six People, belonging to the Brig Sally, Capt. Tabary, of this Port, bound to Hispaniola, which, as she was lying to, under her Main-stay-sail, overset by a Lift of the sea, in Lat. 25°, by which the Captain, Mate, and three of the People were unhappily drowned—The remaining six, after continuing 15 Days on the Bottom of the Vessel, and undergoing amazing Hardships, having no other Provision than what providentially floated to them, they were taken up by a Vessel bound to New-England, from which they were taken on board Capt. Powell, on this Coast.

A Gentleman from the Lower Counties informs us, that the Harvest of Indian Corn was likely to prove the greatest known in those Parts.

NEW-YORK, September 24.

Wednesday the 16th came in from Sea, after having been out about three Weeks, the Snow Margaret, Capt. Morgat, of this Place: She was bound to Monto Christo, and 'tis said, had a French Captain on board, with some French Mariners, designed for Hispaniola, and that the French Captain having attempted to destroy Captain Morgat, and take the Vessel from him, he had got him secured, and thought it best to put back again. We hear the Aggressor is since put on board his Majesty's Ship Coventry, now lying in the North-River.

Capt. Reynolds from Surinam, is come in Ballast: He says, that no Molasses was to be got there when he left it; and that they had excessive Rains there. He left Capt. David Masterton of this Port at Surinam.

Last Week Mr. Henry Van Ness, of this City, Painter, in firing off a Musket, in Harlem Woods, that was double charged, received such a prodigious Blow in the Breast with the Butt End thereof, that he died in a few Hours after.

The 8th Instant, arrived at Cape Anne, the Snow Charlotte, Philip Marett, Master, who on the 25th of August, in Lat. 41° 53' Lon. 59° 26' spoke with the Ship Lion, John Lathorn, Master, from this Port for London, 15 Days out; who the 21st of the same Month, met with a violent Gale of Wind which staved in his Cabin Windows, and filled the same several Times with Water, but the Vessel received no other Damage, all being well on board.

Since our last died at his House in this City, is 74th Year of his Age, Abraham De Pyster, Esq. Treasurer of this Province. His Remains were interred last Saturday in a Vault in Trinity Church, and his Funeral attended by their Excellencies Governor Moore, and General Gage, the Members of his Majesty's Council for this Province, and most of the other Gentlemen of this Place.

John Fairbank, in the Schooner Dolphin, from Little-River, in North-Carolina, for Rhode-Island, put in here in Distress on Sunday, having lost his Mainsail and Foresail, and most of his Cargo off his Deck, in a violent Gale of Wind the 11th Inst. and his Vessel being very leaky, could not proceed on her Voyage.

Last Saturday Night a Man who calls himself Levy Barnet, was committed to our Goal, on Suspicion of robbing, or endeavouring to rob, five different Vessels in our Harbour; and being disturbed in his Business on board Capt. Deal's, Brig, he made his Way out of one of the Cabin Windows, but was in a few Minutes after apprehended on the Dock, in a very wet Condition. He said he came from Philadelphia only the Day before.

On Tuesday came up from the Hook, where she arrived on Saturday last the 19th Instant, the Ship Eagle Capt. Markham, having on board two Companies of the Royal Train of Artillery, which we hear are to relieve some of those who have been for some Time on this Station, who are expected to go home in the same Vessel in about 3 Weeks. The Ship left London the 4th of July, and the Land the first of August, but we can hear of no late Papers or Intelligence by her. On the 13th of Sept. Lon-

KING'S-COLLEGE, New-York, September 17, 1767.

As the Establishment of a School, for the regular instruction of Gentlemen in the different Branches of MEDICINE, must not only promote the Honour and Utility of that important and necessary Science, but likewise conduce to the general Advancement of Learning. The GOVERNORS of this COLLEGE, in Consequence of the Powers vested in them by their Charter; and being desirous of rendering the Institution over which they preside, as publicly and extensively useful as possible, have appointed the following Professors.

SAMUEL CLOSEY, M. D. Professor of ANATOMY.
PETER MIDDLETON, M. D. Professor of the THEORY OF PHYSIC.

JOHN JONES, M. D. Professor of SURGERY.
JAMES SMITH, M. D. Professor of CHYMISTRY and MAT MED.

JOHN TENNENT, M. D. Professor of MIDWIFERY.
SAMUEL BARD, M. D. Professor of the PRACTICE OF PHYSIC.

The above Gentlemen will begin their Lectures the first Monday in November next, and continue them regularly 'till the Completion of the several Courses, which it is supposed, will be some Time in May, and Degrees in Physic will be conferred upon the following Terms:

1. Each Student shall be matriculated as in the Universities of ENGLAND.

If any Gentleman should want any Newtown Pippins, or Esopus or Newtown Spitzburgh apple trees, to send to England, or any other place, I have 500 of a nice size, and they may depend on their being well put into earth with mats; and also all other trees that are to go to any distance where the roots are liable to take damage, shall be put up in the same manner, with no more cost than that of the mats, which will be no more than a halfpenny a tree. Note, that all the above-mentioned trees, are Two shillings each, except the mazarine and marilla cherries, which are One shilling and sixpence each.

If any Gentleman should want any of the marilla, or common cherry-trees, that are of a small or middle size, they can have them for Sixpence a piece: And if there be any other trees wanting of any sort, and they are to be had, I will get them as reasonable as possible.

Any Gentleman that has a mind for any of the above-mentioned trees and will have them sent to New-York, can have them sent on Tuesday or Friday of every week, as there are two passage-boats that go from this landing to New-York on those days, and may be found at Burling's or Beckman's Slips: Jecamiah Mitchell, master of one, and Daniel Clements, of the other.

KING'S-COLLEGE, September 24, 1767.

ON monday November the second, at four o'clock in the evening, (God willing) the first part of Doctor CLOSSY's Anatomical Lectures, will begin with the usefulness of anatomy; and will proceed to the descriptions of the dry, and fresh bones, with their cartilages, ligaments, and membranes, internal structure, uses, motions and diseases, on every Friday and Monday ensuing.

After the first part, the musking will be exhibited in the adult subject.

The third part contains, the arteries, veins, and nerves in a young subject. And the whole will be concluded with the encephalon, and viscera of the inferior cavity's, together with their uses, motions and affections.

Attendance for each course, five pounds, and free after two courses.

To those who see dissections and preparations, ten pounds for each course.

N. B. As this course is revived under the countenance of the president and governors of the college; all possible care will be taken to render it useful, not only to those whose indispensable business it is to understand the human structure, but to gentlemen of other professions and employments. 90

Huntington, September 20th, 1767.

RUN away from Joseph

Lewis of Huntington, in Suffolk County, a Negro Man, named Daniel, about 21 Years of Age; and a Negro Boy, named Ben about 13 Years old.—Daniel, had on when he went away a light brown coat, brown jacket, leather breeches and check linen shirt; wears his hat with a peak cock, and white button; is about a foot 7 or 8 inches high, a very likely strait limb'd fellow; the boy had on when he went off, a light blue samblet coat, check shirt and tow trowsers, is remarkable for having one sore eye, and lost one joint of one of his little fingers. Whoever takes up the thief and secures him, or brings him to the subscriber, so that he may be brought to justice, or secures me the above goods, shall receive FIVE DOLLARS reward and all reasonable charges, paid by

GOULD HOYT.

"Tis supposed the thief went to the westward with the goods.

POETS CORNER.

AN ODE on FRIENDSHIP.
By Miss WILLIAMS.

Friendship, peculiar gift of heav'n,
The noble mind's delight and pride,
To men and angels only giv'n,
To all the lower world deny'd :
While Love, unknown among the blest,
Parent of rage and hot desires,
The human and the savage breast,
Inflames alike with equal fires ;
With bright, but oft destructive gleam,
Alike o'er all his lightnings fly ;
Thy lambent glories only beam
Around the sav'rites of the sky.
Thy gentle flows of guiltless joys
On fools and villains ne'er descend ;
In vain for thee the monarch sighs,
And hugs a flatt'rer for a friend.
When virtue, kindred virtues, meet,
And sister-souls together join,
Thy pleasures permanent as great,
Are all transporting, all divine.
O ! shall thy flames then cease to glow,
When souls to happier climes remove ?
What rais'd our virtue here below
Shall aid our happiness above.

Here each indulgent Female meets
A Husband, and what's more—in Sheets !
Here you may turn him oe'r and oe'r,
He wishes he could please you more ;
But if to please you he be found,
He is contented to be bound.

To a LADY, who offered a PENNY for my THOUGHT, and paid it in a SILVER PENNY.

A PENNY ! it is for a Thought
Of Mine, dear Maid ? if so you've bought
The Trifle much too high.
How'e'er you pay with so much Grace,
You've left another in its Place,
The World's too poor to buy.

The VERSES mentioned in our last, are defer'd for the Author's Review.

To be sold at public Vendue, on Thursday the first Day of October next, at the House of the Widow Sarah Campbell, in Scot's-Street, or at private Sale any Time before that Day :

TWO good Houses, one of which is of Brick, and the other a Brick Front, both in Scot's-Street, adjoining each other, with the Lots they stand on, and one vacant Lot facing Chapel-Street, immediately behind one of the others. The Dementions of the Lots are as follows.

The vacant Lot fronting Chapel-Street, is 23 Feet and 4 Inches in Front and Rear, and its Length on each Side 52 Feet.

The next Lot behind this, fronting Scot's-Street, and whereon Mrs. Campbell now lives, contains 23 Feet and one Inch in Front, and 23 Feet and 4 Inches in Rear ; in Length on the West Side 71 Feet, and on the East 64 Feet.

The other Lot contiguous to this last, on which is the other House, contains 23 Feet and one Inch in Front, and 23 Feet and 4 Inches in Rear on the West Side ; in Length 79 Feet, and on the East 72 Feet, each Lot to be sold separately.

At the same Time will be sold, two Lots of Land in the Township of ARGYLE, commonly called the Scot's-Patent, one containing 300 Acres, and known in the Map of the said Township by No. 134, about a Mile and a Half from Hudson's-River, and a very rich Soil.

The other containing 450 Acres, and known by No. 40, lies on Batten-Kill, thro' which runs a large Stream of Water fit to put any Mills on.

Virginia, August 1, 1767.

RUNaway from my Plantation, at Jordan's, in Prince-George County, in August 1764, a Negro Man Slave, named PETER :—He is above 6 Feet high, very strong and well made ; has a bold Countenance, and large red Lips ; has lost his Right Eye by the bursting of a Gun, the Eye is quite sunk in, and no Part of it visible ; his Feet are large, the first Joint of each great Toe projects out very remarkably.—He is a great Rogue ; hath been guilty of several Felonies, particularly of breaking open a Store of Col. Theodrick Bland, and is out-law'd ; was taken up some Time after he ran away, in Elizabeth City, and committed to the Gaol of that County, and being put into the Confable's Hands, made his Escape : I am informed he is now at New-York, where he passes as a free-Man, and is hired to a Person in that City.—Whoever takes him up and conveys him to me, shall have FIVE POUNDS, and all necessary Charges paid, by RICHARD BLAND.

(Or MEHITIBEL HILTON, in New-York.)

Thomas Bridgen Attwood,

Has imported by the last Vessels from London, a fresh and general Assortment of Drugs and Medicines, which he will Sell at the very lowest Prices, wholesale and retail, at his Store in Broad-Street ; where, as he gives constant attendance himself, Family Prescriptions will be carefully made up, Country Orders punctually executed, and the Favours duly acknowledged.

The most approved patented Medicines, warranted genuine, from the Original Warehouses (c.t.) 47

TO BE SOLD,

On the third day of November next, at the premises:

ALL that tract of land known by the name of the forest of Dean, in the county of Orange, and province of New-York ; containing upwards of 6000 acres of land, well watered and timbered, and several hundred acres of excellent meadow, a large quantity being already improved.

There is on the said tract a strong well-built furnace, with a coal house 100 feet long, a good casting bellows and bridge-house. A blacksmith's and carpenter's shop, with a good saw-mill between two and three hundred yards from the furnace. A dwelling house two stories high, with three rooms on a floor, and a cellar under the whole, with a large kitchen adjoining : The house very pleasantly situated, and commanding an entire view of the furnace, which stands upon a large bed of ore ; vast quantities of which are easily raised, from several rich veins already opened, close to the furnace, which is supplied with fine stream of water from several large ponds and brooks, plentifully stored with a variety of fish. The land carriage from the furnace to the North-river, is a good road of only five miles, from whence it is fifty to New-York.—There are also several convenient places between the furnace and landing, for erecting forges, or grist-mills, at a moderate expence ; a fine range for cattle during the summer season, and a sufficient quantity of hay may be made to keep them thro' the winter : There is a great quantity of ore already raised, above three hundred loads of coal in the coal-house, and 800 cords of wood cut, with a hearth stone ready fixed, and new ones easily procured from Haverstraw, a few miles below. In short the natural advantages of this furnace, respecting wood, water, an inexhaustible quantity of good ore, and short land carriage, are superior to any works on this part of the continent ; and only require the attention of a master's eye, to produce a very handsome yearly income.

N. B. An indisputable title will be given by VINCENT MATHEWS, near the premises.

New-York, September 3, 1767.

New-York, September 1, 1767.

87 95

To be sold, at public Vendue, On Thursday the 15th of October next, between the Hours of 11 and 1 o'clock, at the Merchant's Coffee-House, in New-York :

A lot of land, situate in Dutchess County, in a tract known by the name of the Great Nine Partners, and is one fourth part of lot No. 36 in the grand division, and in lot No. 3, in the subdivision, containing 87 3 acres. It is well wooded and water'd, and the whole good wheat land ; has a grill and a saw mill near it, with a good road to Poughkeepsie and the Fish-Kill landing. There are four tenants on the lot, two of which have leases that will expire in seven years from May next, the other two are tenants at will, removable at three months warning : The conditions of sale are sale only.—Any person having a mind to purchase before the day of public sale, may apply to Mr. Sheffield Howard, merchant in New-York, or to the subscriber at Katts Kill landing, who will give an indisputable title for the same.

Note, there are a number of fruit trees, together with barns and other houses on the lot : the subscriber has also to sell at private sale, 7 or 800 acres of choice good land, part of which is the best of low or intervale land, lying along Schoharie river, which runs nearly thro' the middle of the low land. It is about two and a half miles from the new Batavia settlement, 6 miles of the Breakabeck settlement, and within a large new settlement now carrying on, where the subscriber's sons are settled, and a saw and grist mill will be built next year : Whoever has a mind to purchase farms there, may apply as above : An indisputable title will be given, by

JOHN DIES.

NEW-YORK JOURNAL;

OR, GENERAL

ADVERTISER.

[THURSDAY, September 24, 1767.]

[NUMB. 1290.]

L O N D O N , July 9.

Extract of a Letter from Lisbon, dated June 12.
An expedition is fitting out here with all possible diligence, to consist of two men of war of the line, a frigate, and four of the Fernambuca company's ships to carry provisions, together with others, which it is said, are preparing at Porto. Their destination is kept secret; but it is the general opinion that they are destined for the Rio Grande in Brazil, to operate jointly with the Spaniards in the expulsion of the Jesuits from Paraguay. The destination given out is, that they are to garrison the Western islands, where it is said, there have been some disturbances; and this has occasioned a surmise, that the court fears some attempt on the part of England, the better to bring them to compliance with treaties."

JULY 11. We hear that most of the royal forests in England are to be surveyed this summer, in order to their being laid out in farms.

They write from Gibraltar, that several transports laden with ammunition, naval and military stores, continue to arrive there from Holland, &c. bound to Corsica.

We are assured that it is yet an undecided point whether the present Parliament may not meet with its dissolution before another meeting.

On Thursday night four men, said to be Jesuits, were taken into custody, in Oxford road, by virtue of a special warrant.

Intelligence Extraordinary. The terms on which a certain nobleman offered to come into the administration, were certainly as follow: 1. The Duke of Richmond to go to Ireland. 2. Lord Albemarle to be put at the head of the army. 3. Mr. Yorke to be Secretary of State for the southern department. Which were refused.

We hear from Cowes and Newport, that the farmers in the Isle of Wight, have got in all their hay, and had the prospect of exceeding plentiful crops of wheat.

It is said that no less than 450,000l. were remitted into this kingdom, on account of corn exported to France, Spain and Portugal, in the years 1764 and 1766.

JULY 16. Letters from the frontiers of Spain take notice of some marks of discontent in that kingdom, at what has lately happened with regard to Jesuits. The governors, commandants, &c. are ordered, it seems, to have a watchful eye, in their respective departments, over the public tranquility; to prevent any tumultuous assemblies; and to arrest all such persons who shall discover, either by words or actions, any disapprobation of his Majesty's measures. And further, that in order to be prepared against all surprise, as there are not above 80,000 regular troops, and 25,000 militia in the kingdom, his Catholic Majesty has intreated the King of France to reinforce his troops in the garrisons nearest to Spain, that they may be ready to assist the Spanish troops in case there should be any occasion to stifle the spirit of sedition.

Extract of a letter from Edinburgh, July 11.

"On Tuesday came on before the court, the decision of the Douglas cause: The opinion of the Judges upon which, stand as follow:

Spoke on Tuesday, Lord President, for Hamilton: Lord Strichen, for Douglas. On Wednesday, the Lords Kaims, Auchinleck, and Coalston, for Douglas. On Thursday, the Lords Barjarg, Alemore, and Elliock, for Hamilton. On Friday, Stonefield, for Hamilton, and Pitfour for Douglas. This Day, Kennet and Hails, for Hamilton; and Gardiston, for Douglas. There only remains Justice Clerk and Monboddo to speak on Tuesday, one of whom it is certain will be for Hamilton, and the other Douglas, whereby there is an equality, and revolving upon the President's casting vote, the Hamilton family carries it here. It is needless to mention what a consternation this affair makes in Edinburgh."

Letters from Madrid advise, that many persons who were known to be closely connected with the Jesuits, have been lately arrested there.

Letters from Malta, dated June 1, say, "The Captain of a ship arrived here this morning, informs us, that a small Corsican armed vessel, having perceived not far from this city, that a Turkish galley, returning from the coast of Africa with a considerable quantity of treasure for the Grand Siegnor, was in chase of her, and that she could not avoid falling into the hands of the infidels, the crew immediately resolved rather to perish than to be reduced to slavery; and animated with an heroic courage they boarded the galley and made great slaughter there, 'till at length being almost overcome by superior force, they were succoured by a Maltese galley under the command of the Chevalier Roffelmini of Pisa, who immediately with his crew leaped on board the Turkish galley, and completed the victory which the Corsicans had begun. It is added, that the latter had for their share of the booty several cannon, fire-arms, and ammunition, together with 16,000 crowns in ready money."

It was this morning reported, that the Earl of Rochfort will be appointed to succeed the Right Hon. Mr. Conway as one of his Majesty's Secretaries of State. Some dispatches were forwarded to his Lordship yesterday.

Some private letters from Lisbon advise, that the King of Portugal has appointed and sent over by the last fleet, new governors and other officers for every department in the Brazils, in order totally to expunge the pernicious principles which the Jesuits have propagated among the inhabitants of that country.

His Excellency Henry William Lyttleton will set out for the Court of Portugal next Saturday.

This morning the Right Hon. Lord Clive had a numerous levee of the nobility and gentry at his house in Berkeley-Square, to compliment his Lordship on his arrival from the East-Indies. It is said his Lordship has brought over some valuable presents for his Majesty.

In the London Chronicle of July 16, we have the following Paragraph, viz.

The Legislature of New-York, has voluntarily passed the Bill, for providing for the troops conformable to the act of parliament, induced by a sense of the justice and propriety of that law, without any previous knowledge of the late steps taken here to enforce a compliance.—A clear demonstration of the wisdom of the measures pursued, which were rather calculated for allowing time to the colonies to return to reason and their duty, than for proceeding with violence against them.

[The author of this paragraph, either did not understand the subject, or had a mind to deceive others.]

NAPLES, JUNE 16. It is thought there will soon be some revolution in this kingdom, relative to the Jesuits. The King having forbid Cardinal Orsini to see the general of that order, and directed him to discharge his confessor, who is a Jesuit.

LOST or STOLEN, on the first of this Instant, in the Officer's Market, three Thirty Shilling Jersey Bills, one Six and Six Penny Bill, two Eighteen Penny Bills, in a Blue Paper.—Any Person having found the same, and returning it to the Printer before the 1st of August, shall have Two Dollars Reward and no Questions asked, if being left by a poor Man, and the Money not belonging to him. New-York, Sept. 24, 1767. 87.93.

BY Order of the Honourable Da-

*B*nuel Hendricks, Esq; Chief Justice of the Province of New-York. Notice is hereby given, That on Application made to him by William Kuan, one of the Creditors of Godfrey Hendricks, Late of the County of Albany, Merchant; he has in pursuance of an Act of the Governor, Council, and General Assembly of the Province of New-York, entitled,

"An Act to prevent Frauds in Debts," directed all the Estate of the said Godfrey Hendricks, real and personal, to be seized: And that unless he does return, and discharge his Debts, within three Months next after this public Notice given. All his Estate real and personal, that shall be seized and taken, will be sold for the Satisfaction of his Creditors.

Dated this Seventeenth Day of August, in the Year of our

Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-Six. 85.96
